Headmaster's Message

Dear Fellow Georgians,

"When you are grown men you will be able to look back and say, 'I was there'."

Echoing our Founding Headmaster on the opening of the College in 1964, I spoke these words on September 8th, at our service celebrating the 50th birthday of the Royal St. George's College.

You may recall it was a glorious late summer day. We had all gathered on the turf for a carefully orchestrated whole-school photograph before processing into the Chapel to begin our year-long celebration of a half-century of our fantastic school. As we left the Chapel we raised the 50th Anniversary flag, which flew above the campus all year.

We celebrated our half-century with throwback ties, patches on sports' uniforms, themed grub days, our first Homecoming weekend, Alumni speakers in Evensong, an amazing Golo, a new mascot, lapel pins and birthday cake. I hope your memories of this special year of the College will be with you always.

The Georgian and the memories contained in its pages are a gift that you will return to often. I hope you will look back on this year of celebration through the images captured here. My thanks to Mr. Hutton for his ongoing commitment to the important task of editing and publishing the yearbook.

I'd be remiss in not acknowledging that in the midst of our celebration, our year was also touched by loss and tragedy. On May 3rd Lucas Peel, a member of the class of 2007, died at the age of 25 after a battle with cancer. Lucas was a remarkable young man — an artist, an athlete, a coach and a true Georgian. He is an inspiration to all of us and this edition of The Georgian is dedicated to his memory.

As always, my thanks to all of the Staff of RSGC for challenging and inspiring each boy to continue his journey toward the best version of himself.

To my boys in the Class of 2015, my gratitude for your leadership of the College and my congratulations as you move on to the next stage of your lives.

Here's to the next 50 years! Long live RSGC!

Kids' Lit Quiz Team

In July 2014, four Junior School boys travelled to Cornwall, England, to represent Canada at the World Final of the Kids' Lit Quiz. Ryan Hamilton, Luca Margante, Stefan Petracic, and R.J. Steele spent an amazing week with students from seven countries who like to read as much as they do. They toured castles and manoriums, went ocean kayaking, and even prepared a Canadian breakfast of pancakes with maple syrup for all the teams on the last day. Teams were quizzed on their knowledge of children's books: everything from Norse myths and African folktales to Harry Potter and The Hunger Games. In the end, only five points separated first and last place. These boys now have friends around the globe, and memories to last a lifetime.

Bosei Gakujuku Partnership

The agreement allows for the joint planning and delivery of programs to develop understanding of different cultures, and international exchange programs with a focus on Judaism. In addition, when RSGC's dedicated Jewish boys visit Japan for the annual cultural exchange trip, they will take Juda classes at the Bosei Gakujuku and receive an official certificate of completion.

A delegation from the Bosei Gakujuku, which is part of the much larger Takai University Educational System, came to Toronto for the official signing ceremony. Professor Hashimoto, Sensei Yamaguchi, who works in the office of the president of Takai University, Sensei Asaka, a former national champion and instructor at the Bosei Gakujuku; and Sensei Kashiwazaki, a two-time world champion, were thrilled to be in Toronto to solidify the relationship with RSGC.

Journal for Humanity Service Trip to Nepal, March 2015

On March 7th a group of 16 students and 5 staff boarded a plane at Pearson International Airport in Toronto for a 20 hour journey to Tribhuvan Airport in Kathmandu. For 5 days we worked with shovels and dirt, rebar and cement to begin the foundation of a new house for an impoverished family in the Pokhara region of Nepal. We were celebrated with song, dance and holy paint when we arrived and again on our departure. We then moved on to a 2 day trek in the Annapurna mountains where the parting clouds gave rise to the remarkable beauty of the surroundings. Despite sore stomachs and dehydration, the experiences were rich and our great fortune in leaving just weeks before the devastating earthquakes hit some areas we had visited has not been forgotten. We are in touch with the people who shared that part of our lives and are happy to report that they are all physically well albeit emotionally exhausted and fearful for their future.

Alex Anagnoson

It's been a good six years. To the teachers (those who I have and don't have, you know who you are): you've been great. To the friends I've made: it's been a slice. See you in 25 years.

Ben Barnes

RSGC has provided me with the best education that I could have ever imagined. I have many people to thank for their support throughout my high school career but the ones who have made it all possible are my parents. I am proud to say that I will forever be a Georgian.

Gregory Bateman

I'd like to thank my parents, teachers and peers. All of them have helped me achieve what I have achieved and become who I am today. Although I'm looking forward, I know that I'm going to miss all of the great times that I had at Reach for the Top, GSA and the incredibly prestigious chess club, as well as all of the other clubs, teams and groups that I was a part of. Finally, I'm going to miss all of the guys that made this school my home. It's been a great 9 years.

Will Blanco

I am thankful for my parents giving me the opportunity to attend Royal St. George's College, and for the countless other opportunities they have granted me towards my personal growth and development. I am thankful for the teachers and staff who helped me throughout my tenure at RSGC. Particularly, I am grateful for Mr. Kotecha believing I can do anything in the business world, Coach Loucks for developing my basketball skills, and Mr. Fitzpatrick for always being there whenever I felt down.

Finally, I am thankful for the RSGC community and my classmates for making my experience the best it could possibly be. No matter how far in life I go, I will always recognize my gratitude for having an amazing network of classmates and teachers at an amazing school.

"If we had 10 Will Blancos, we'd be up by 50 right now" -Coach Loucks

Nyles Blumenthal

I would first like to thank all my teachers for helping me through the years, I would also like to thank all the guys in the graduation class, you guys made this experience really great, and lastly I would like to thank my parents for sending me to this school. I am lucky to have such great friends and family.

Leo Bourgeois

It's crazy to think that 6 years ago I walked into this unfamiliar place not knowing anyone or the long lasting impact this school would have on my life. Each year here I grew to love the school more and more, eventually instead of dreading going to school in the morning I would be excited. "Manners Maketh Men" is a motto I will always keep close to me, its been ingrained in every student in this school and its stretches far beyond the classroom. Thanks to everyone at the school who has gone out of their way to give me the best experience possible throughout my time here, especially, Mrs. Uhre for being an amazing advisor for the last three years and supporting me through everything, Mr. Evans for always believing in me as an athlete and teaching me how to always perform at my best, Mr. Algarvio for always taking extra time to help me understand whatever I was having trouble with, Mr. Schroeder for teaching me how to keep a balance between school and sports, Mr. Darvasi for sharing all of his knowledge with us in the attempt to grow us as men, Mr. Ackley for giving me the chance to be involved in the school in a leadership position, J-Don and Spacie for making the two years on the varsity hockey team the most enjoyable and fun experience I have had playing sports. Finally, all of the boys, you guys thought me how important it is to keep your friends close and to treat all of them with respect. You boys are my brothers. I am so grateful for all the life long friends I have had the chance to make throughout my experience at the royal college.

Stephen Boyd

"A high school student is an inventor. Whether they like it or not, students are inventing their emotions, their experiences, and their future; fine tuning them to how they like them. The worst crime they can commit is to invent a product that they don't believe in." - Stevie Boyd when he asked himself about his high school experience just now.

I would like to thank my mom for making sure my Software was done every Sunday, and my dad for making sure I didn't go into business. I love you, and that previous statement was facetious. Thank you to the rest of my family for the continued support, and am sad to say that I won't be able to attend Sunday night dinners during the next school year. Thanks to all the boys for an amazing 4 years, for another amazing 4 in our respective universities, and an uncountable number after that. Thanks to Ben and Murph for being so cute.

"You don't know what's impossible until you do It." - A Wise Guru

Samsen Brasseur

Silent Memories

Brendan Burleton

I would like to start off by thanking my parents for the sacrifices they made to allow to go to RSGC. Through my several years at RSGC, I have come to realize that the Royal College is not just a place where I have learned, but also the place where grew up. Everyone at the school has shaped me in some way, but there are several individuals I would like to thanks specifically. I would first like to thank Mr. Fitz for being my Dad away from home, Mr. Enfield for his encouragement inside and outside of school, and Ms. Girvan for her never-ending commitment to my education. My biggest thanks go out to the class of 2015. I have so many memories from the past four years which I will cherish for the rest of my life. I know no matter where the future takes me, I will have 83 brothers who will be there in times of need.

I love this school...ya that's a good way to start. I love all the friends I've made and I would never trade all the amazing experiences I've encountered during these four years for anything in the world, simply because they mean the world to me. While there are some moments I'm not entirely proud of, I can say that I'm super proud of the person I've become and I'm super grateful for everyone that's helped me out along the way, you know who you are ^_^

Now all that's left is the future in front of me, Gotta dive in head first, can't back down now, It's Now or Never!

Brennan Chin

With the finale to some of my favorite years approaching quickly, I am taking the time to thank my teachers, classmates and everyone who helped make my experience the way it was. Especially to my parents who give me so many opportunities in life, attending RSGC included. Lastly, the boys, my brothers. We came from so many places, schools and backgrounds and yet, we finished as together, as Georgians. I may not have had the chance to get to know you, or if I did, we all now share a common status. We will always be brothers, regardless of end pursuits and accomplishments, we will always have each other, remember that. SCIENTIA PIETATE.

Foremost, I'd like to thank Coach Taylor for all the inspiration, Georges for the fuel and the boys for the memories. Good institution, better men. Smells boys. Clear eyes, full hearts can't lose.

My time at RSGC has been full of fun, learning and personal growth. Everyone here has shaped me into the person I am today. Thank you to all the staff and faculty for guiding me along this journey and helping me when I needed it most. This is truly a special place. I want to thank my parents for giving me the opportunity to come to this great school and I am very grateful to everyone in my family for supporting me in everything I do. I also want to thank my fellow grads for being huge beauties and making this year, one to remember.

It seems that this is due today, so let's get started. It's been six years here at the Royal College. I've experience highs and lows, but overall, I like to think it was a pretty amazing time. First and foremost, I'd like to thank everyone in the Class of 2015, it's been an honour to get to know all of you. I'd like to thank my parents for raising me and sending me to school here, because that was nice of them. I'd also like to thank Ms. Ghoreshy for being a great advisor, and, along with Mme. Deblois, for bringing R42T straight to the top. I'd like to thank pretty much every teacher I've had during my time here as well. And, since I'm obliged, to quote Mr. John Otis Moore, "It's RSGC's j." Lemonade was a popular drink, and it still is.

RSGC has changed my life. It has taught me so much in my four years, and I will carry the mantle of a Georgian for the rest of my life. I would like to first and foremost thank my parents for making the financial sacrifice to send me to this amazing place. They have given me so much and I will always be grateful. I would also like to thank my teachers as they have shaped me into the man I am today. I want to give special thanks to Mr. Kotecha for having the patience to work with me over my time at the college, Mr. Fitz for his guidance, Mr. Beatty for setting a phenomenal example of what a man is, Mr. Darvasi for rekindling my love of reading and Dr. Leatch for teaching what can only be described as the most entertaining class on campus. These men have given me the tools to be successful, and I will do my best to do them proud in the future. One last thank you goes out to Ms. Kaye. This amazing woman has always had time for me, and I want to thank her so much for her work and I wish her and all the RSGC teachers nothing but the best for the future.

Mariano Elia

I arrived at RSGC with only a handful of friends, and during my years here I made many more. I was very fortunate to have Mr. Beatty by my side during my entire school career... yes, Junior Kindergarten through to Grade 12. Along the way, I have had great teachers who guided me to my present path. I want to say a very special thank you to Mr. D'Arcy. What was a last minute decision to "try out Comp Sci" has resulted in me finding my passion and ultimate path. Long live the sushi banquets!

Aia Euehadich

My time at RSGC has been something of a dream. RSGC has taught me everything from the value of a well mannered gentleman, to the appreciation of being able to play a instrument. Being a Georgian will be something I can keep close to my heart forever. The teachers at RSGC have been nothing less than perfect which has made time here unforgettable. The boys in our grade were undoubtedly the best, and the bonds that we have created will be unmatched!! I want to thank my Mom and Dad for giving me the privilege of attending RSGC.

Ethan Farbridge

Thanks RSGC for the great times and better memories that I will never forget.

I would like to take this space to thank all those who have helped me on my journey through highschool. I'd like to thank my parents for providing this amazing opportunity for myself along with my teachers for helping me succeed and also my friends for being great motivators and great guys. I wish the best of luck to my fellow classmates in the years to come and again thank you to everyone for making these last four years fantastic!

I'd like to thank anyone who contributed in making my RSGC experience amazing. And also like to thank my family for supporting me in everything I've done throughout my high school career. And finally, TOM BRADY IS INNOCENT!!!!

Christopher Gunter

First off I would like to thank the rest my class of 2015 brothers for an exceptional four years of my life, all of you made my RSGC experience unforgettable. I will always remember and be grateful for it. Second I would like to thank all of the RSGC teaching staff for helping to turn me into the man I am today. As well as Ms. Buchanan, Ms. Fitz, the maintenance staff and to my parents who gave me the opportunity to attend RSGC. Finally I would like to urge any student to do what I didn't begin to do until much later in my high school career, push the boundaries of your comfort zone. RSGC gives every student a very unique and supportive environment to grow and learn as we progress in our very strange high school lives. Try out for that sport that makes you nervous, go to that party; don't be afraid to try new things. You will be supported every step of the way and can only benefit from it.

Zac Harrison

I would like to take this chance to thank several people in my life that have shaped the man I am today. To start off, my gratitude goes out to the entire RSGC community. Throughout the 10 years I have been here, I have been provided with an ample amount of opportunities that I would never have gotten anywhere else, and for that I am truly thankful. In specific I would like to thank Mr. Stevens, Mr. Kotecha, Ms. Nichols, and Mr. Donnelly. Mr. Stevens for never giving up on me in grade 10 math and pushing me to finish my Duke of Ed Bronze even though it took me three years. Mr. Kotecha for putting up with me through five courses and devoting countless hours of math with me because of the several times I broke my hand. Ms. Nichols for all the early morning chats to help start off my day. Finally Mr. Donnelly for taking me to all of the business competitions and for playing me in my last rugby game even though my mom told him not to. Next I would like to thank my parents. Without you I wouldn't of had the opportunity to come to RSGC and for that, I am forever thankful. Finally for the boys, nothing would have been the same without all you of you gems.

As this year comes to a close I am very grateful for a number of people who were involved with my school experience. I would like to thank my parents for supporting me both athletically and academically over the past 9 years at the college. To my teachers, for all the hard work they have put in both during school hours and not, and last I would like to thank all the mans for the sick times over the past four years, its been real. Hope all you brothers have a sick time at uni!

Thomas Hillyer

After 9 years at this school it appears as though some things never change. There will always be chapel, when it isn't being rebuilt. There will always be a tarmac... or hole or whatever... There will always be an amazing headmaster... except for that unnamed 'interim,' and the grads will always occupy the library and claim it as their lounge... unless (!) ... but no matter what else changes there will always be a great community. For such a small school everyone seems to find their place, and that is one thing that will never change. Thanks to the school for always advocating for being individuals. Thanks especially to Mr. D'Arcy for always pushing me and helping me find my place.

Mackenzie Holden

It is amazing how fast four years can go by. I remember getting out of my car preparing to go on the grade nine trip, and wondering how on earth I was going to survive 4 years in my new surroundings. But here I am, in June of Grade 12, wishing I could do it all over again. I'd like to take this time to thank my parents, who made it possible for me to attend such an amazing school. I would also like to thank all of my teachers who helped me grow up these four years. In particular I would like to thank Mr. Stevens for squeezing every drop of math talent I had out of me in grade ten, and Ms. Gledhill for putting up with me for two subjects in one year as well as being the best ever one year advisor.

Thanks to all the boys in the Class of 2015 who made my time amazing but special thanks to: all the guys in AP Econ for undoubtedly being the best AP class I have ever taken, "the 6" for being the most intelligent bio bench, Lachlan for doing an amazing job leading the biggest class in RSGC history, all the prefects for smoothly running this year, Zac for grinding grade ten math with me and last but certainly not least Ben Luder for getting me through high school. It's been a great four years boys!

It worries me that I might not understand gratitude, but it worries me more when I think I do. I just hope that I put to good use what I've been given. It would be a shame not to.

(If anyone wonders why I wish them a 'Happy Wednesday' whenever I leave, it's because I don't like things being special. Friday doesn't need the repeated strain of everyone's high expectations, so I would just as soon enjoy the more mundane days. Don't waste them)

Max Helberg

Although I originally intended to write something along the lines of absurd, ironic and nonsensical, my judgement got the better of me, and suggested that I write something more cheesy and heartfelt. Going with this theme, I have decided to write a quote about gratitude. "I should note that I sincerely doubt anyone will ever read this quote. That being said, if you are currently reading this, then indeed you are reading my quote and contradicting the previous statement. In that spirit, I would like to congratulate you for making the foolish mistake of reading my long-winded and self-indulgent attempts at being clever. You should know that I will never live up to those quintessential quotes that appear to be perfectly ironic, sarcastic and occasionally satiric.

Some have surmised that ones grad quote is ultimately ones legacy. A grad quote is a students final chance to share their thoughts about the school and talk about their life as a Georgian. If indeed this is true, then the legacy of ones quote is also the legacy of their character. For example, reading a quote allows one to infer what kind of person the author is. Use this handy guide to help you (the reader) understand each author's psychology: *Heartfelt: they don't mind being cheesy and showing their softer side. *Ironic: they're too cool to admit their love for the school, too cool to actually admit that they experience human emotion. *Short: lazy; the word speaks for itself. *Short: concise; this is the student that fills the teacher with jubilation because they have mastered the craft of writing! *Self-Reflective: an obnoxious smart-Alec who wants to show off that they are capable of understanding, and sometimes satirizing, the conventions of a grad quote, occasionally spinning it in to a parody. They're not smart, they're just pretentious.

Thank you to Dr. Evans who taught me how to be an unreliable Narrator. Thank you to all of the staff and students at RSGC who helped shape me in to the person I am today, allow me to become more confident and more aware of who I am. I have no doubts that any other school would've had a different influence on me, and I am grateful for the influence that the school has had. It's been an incredible journey and a great place to call my second home. I am forever indebted and grateful to all of those who make this school a wonderful place, Staff, Students, Faculty and the unsung heroes in Maintenance and the Kitchen. Thank you!

I just wanted to take this space as a place to thank a few people who have made my high school experience especially special. My parents for sending me to such an incredible school. I came to RSGC in a non-entry year knowing only 1 person. By the third week I knew almost everyone's name and was treated like I'd been their friend for years. I wouldn't have been able to have the amazing past 2 years if it wasn't for the unreal boys at this school, and the most amazing community. RSGC had the most amazing impact on my life and I can't thank everyone enough.

Shoutout to everyone who was a part of the best 2 years of my life.

Andrew Kim

I would like to thank my parents for giving me an opportunity to study in this amazing school. Throughout the years at RSGC, I have made a lot of great friends who have made me feel comfortable in the community. The teachers and all the staff members have guided me to the starting line, where I can start my journey with a safe route ahead of me.

Tommy Kirby

RSGC has given me the best 8 years possible. I have so many people to thank for getting me to where I am today. To name a few, I would like to thank Mr. Schroder, Mr. Darvasi, Dr. Leatch, and most of all, to Mr. Jamieson. Firstly, I'd like to thank all my brothers here at the Royal College. I would also like to thank my family and the many great teachers that led me to where I am today. Specifically, Mr. Darvasi and Ms. Girvan. RSGC will always feel like home because of the many great friends and moments I've had over the four years of being here. Thanks for everything, it's been real.

The Royal College, what a ride. To preface, this is written in proper English, and not the common Lisi vernacular that only Nuclear can understand (respects Nuke, touches.) Sorry to disappoint. First and foremost, I am forever in debt to my parents. Love them forever, owe the world to them. Thank you to all the educators who helped me along the way. Mr. Jamieson; it's been 10 years. You will forever remain an enormous influence on me, and I can't thank you enough for all your guidance and support. You care about your own, and I love you to bits. Father Donkin; your return was the best news of my summer. I will tell your Waterdown stories to my children, but I hope you'll still be around to do it better yourself. Thank you, Mr. Robinson for being a gigantic beauty. Madame Bonetta for being my second mom. Mr. D'Arcy for teaching me how to think deeply, and exemplifying what it's like to live out your passions. Mr. Lambersky, for teaching me the power of logic and language. Mr. Schroder, for inspiring me to be student athlete, and working with me to balance my passions and academics. I will never forget you coming to watch me play -- gem move. Mr. Fitz for inspiring me to get involved, and for emulating the epitome of integrity and morality. Mrs. Fitz, you've been there since day one and I can't thank you enough for your love and support. Mr. O'Leary, you're the first person I met at RSGC and a huge reason why I came here. Working with you in my later years has been a privilege. Mr. Darvasi, thank you for choosing to be a teacher. You're by far the smartest man I've ever known, and your choice to share your knowledge has left a lasting impact on all of us. Thanks to Mr. Donnelly and Mr. Sarelles for letting me walk on to the rugby team and battle for my brothers. Mr. Ackley, you're one of the few who I've had since day one. Thank you for all you do, and for supporting me in my ALL of my athletic endeavors, including outside of school. Ms. Kaye, thank you for helping me through all the adversity I've faced over the last few years. You've helped me navigate through some difficult situations and I'll miss your advice and counsel! Mr. Beatty, thank you for all of your support. You have inspired me to live out my experience to the fullest, but also to reflect when it's most meaningful. Finally, I owe my experience to the boys. I've been fortunate enough to graduate with an unbelievable group of brothers. I've met lifelong friends here, you guys have made coming to school everyday a fupup instead of a chore. Thanks for the memories boys, I'll cherish them forever. I walked into this school an 8 year-old kid, and somehow I'm walking out a man. This isn't a school to me -- it's the place where I grew up. Thanks to all who made these 10 years amazing, I'm forever grateful. Let's touch God with this one boys.

My 10 years at the Royal College has flown by. It has provided me with unforgettable memories and friendships that will last a lifetime. Having said that, I have many people to thank in not enough room. I would like to start by thanking my parents for sending me to an amazing school and supporting me through all the good and the bad. I'm sorry it was so pricey, but I had a great time.

Second, I would like to thank the faculty who helped me throughout my time at RSGC. Shout out to Mr. Darvasi, Mr. Fitz, Ms. Fitz, Dr. Leatch, and of course, Mr. Donnelly.

Finally, to all my boys. I'll never forget all the memories that we created during our time at RSGC. I couldn't have asked for a better group of guys to go through high school with. It's been a good run, but as our high school careers are coming to a close, I would like to wish you all good luck! Shout out to: Kitchen for being allergic to everything on this planet, Lisi for using vocabulary that half the grade never understood, Lachlan for being a great leader and an awesome guy, Zac for grinding through RSGC with me since the beginning, Hickey for always providing some good ol' beef whenever the Habs were mentioned, Mack for always taking on chirps but not letting them phase him, Jones for being Asian with me, Nuke for all the well-fought battles in FIFA, and to all the other beauties that made my time at RSGC unforgettable.

Thanks to my friends and family who helped me get through the past 4 years. Special thanks to Mr. Darvasi, Mr. Castator, Dr. Leatch, and Mr. Donnelly. I'd also like to thank each and everyone one of the boys for being the best class possible.

I'd like to thank my parents and all the teachers and friends who accompanied me during my time at this school. I have loved my time at RSGC. It's a place I grew as a person and learned a lot about myself. This would certainly not be the same without the incredible atmosphere provided at RSGC. Next year I head out into a bigger world, but I'm sure I'll continue to keep many of the values I learned here as I try to make my life as joyful and full as possible.

Brandon Marsh

My time here at the Royal College has been like none other. It has engrained values of respect and discipline (to the furthest extent it could) that I will carry with me as long as I live. The companionship of this school, the brotherhood that surrounds each and every student gives me solidarity on my leave, for I feel lucky to have ever been a part of something so special. I can honestly say that Senior Year is a roller coaster for everyone and I'm just glad to have made it out in one piece. If I had to give advice to anyone entering this ride, it would be to keep staring, because it really does feel to have passed in the blink of an eye.

Ruairidh McCartney

My last four years at RSGC have been amazing, leaving me with great friendships and memories. I want to say thanks to my teachers and coaches for all their support and encouragement. I would like to thank my parents for the opportunity to attend such an exceptional school, and their continued support in all my endeavors. I finally want to thank my RSGC brothers, and how they have made my last four years here truly life shaping and made my time at the college undeniably special.

Michael Miller

I was given the absolute pleasure over the past four years of meeting the people I met, making the mistakes I made, and learning from every opportunity I had. Royal St. George's is a gift that I am proud to carry with me forever. Thank you to everyone that was there to experience it all with me. God save the Queen.

Ois Moore

RSGC has made me what I am: a Georgian. Every event, everyday and everyone here has fostered my values and morals as a young man. To this school and the people within, thank you, I love you. To my brothers, I owe ya. To Mr. Ruscitti, thanks for the advice and support. I wouldn't be half the man with half the ambition I am and have today with out you. To my parents, you wont regret your investment in me. I promise. I am sure that I will look back on my time as a student at Royal St. Georges College with pride.

I've never met a more obnoxious, rowdy and overall raucous group of young men that was the class of 2015. But I wouldn't have them any other way. To the boys, I wish all of them the great future they got coming. I'm going to miss each of you.

Mawiy Pokipchuk

I would like to thank all of my teachers for their commitment to my learning at RSGC. It really means a lot when teachers work honestly and foster their student's academic and experiential learning, both inside and outside the classroom. Special acknowledgments go to Mr. Enfield for being a beauty and teaching chem to a group of "suckers", Mr. Darvasi (The Big Nurse) for making us look forward to English class and for taking the time to help me outside the class, Mr. Jamieson for introducing me to the most beautiful music on earth, to Mr. Sarellas for teaching me how to squat PROPERLY, and of course, Ms. NICHOOOOOOOOOOOOOOLS. Most of all, I would like to thank my boys for being the most supportive, honest, kind, and straight up best group of guys I could have journeyed through school with. I am very thankful for the sacrifices my parents have made to send me to RSGC. A community more than a school, RSGC will always hold a special place in my heart. Keep it real Boys.

I will always be a Georgian. The nine years I have spent at Royal St. George's College have been the solid foundation for what I will become. I will miss the epic wall ball games with Miguel, intense ball hockey games in the chill of winter, late nights in Mr. D'Arcy's lab, the fun but tiring outdoor education trips, and so much more, even evensong. I have had good days, bad days, and even awful days, but it always seems at RSGC you walk away from your bad and awful days a better person. Learning from your mistakes is one of the most important lessons someone can learn, because you know what is wrong and you are to decide if you want to do it again. RSGC provided me with the opportunity to learn this myself and I am grateful for that. In my time at RSGC I have had many successes, my successes would not have been made possible without the help and resources RSGC gave me, I am thankful for all the staff at RSGC for what they do to ensure I become the best version of myself.

It's been real, kids.

My time at RSGC has been a lot of fun; throughout the four years that I've been here I'll never forget the memories and friendships that I've made. I'd like to thank all my friends, teachers and coaches who have helped me along the way. Especially, Coach Loucks who has help me become a leader, Mr. Schroder for supporting and encouraging me when I needed it most. Mr. Darvasi who truly made my final year enjoyable with his English game, Mr. Farrar who made me realize the importance of proper attire and how to get bigger calves, Mr. Kotecha for stressing punctuality and professionalism, Mr. Castator for being a bro, Mr. Fitzpatrick helping me understand there is a time and place for everything, my boy Reuben for the positive reinforcement and constructive criticism after basketball games, Mr. Beatty making the path to become the best version of myself and finally, my parents for sending me to this awesome school.

We're a couple weeks away from graduation, and I'm finally realizing how appreciative I am of the community here. I'm grateful for my parents and all the opportunities they've given me. Thank you to the incredible teachers who have guided and pushed me to do great work. I'm indebted to the adults in the community who have played a huge role in advising and giving support throughout my time here. Of course, I'm most appreciative for our graduating class. You guys made RSGC great. See you boys at Book Club.

Special thanks go to my parents for sending me to this school, also Mr. Schroder, Mr. Darvasi, T-Bird, Mr. Ruscitti, Ms. Turner, and Mr. Jamieson. I want to be remembered as a great leader for the golf team, Choice ball hockey captain, Chief of Media for ball hockey, and an honorary steward. The last 6 years at The Royal College have been incredible. There are so many people that I want to thank for making my time at RSGC amazing. My parents for sending me here, Coach Loucks, Mr. Schroder, Dr. Lambersky, Mr. Darvasi, Dr. Leatch, Ms. Wagar, Rueben, and all the boys at RSGC for making my experience here better than I could have ever imagined.

Stuart Tremayne

It's been eight years since I first started at RSGC, a lot has changed since then. The school has new facilities and faces but its values and culture remains the same. My time at RSGC has been full of ups and downs. They're have been good times, great times, and not so great times. Its important to remember that nothing is perfect. RSGC is an amazing community unlike any other I've experienced. It is a tightly knit community that gives you support when you need it most. I love RSGC, I'll miss it like crazy and I'll cherish the memories of my time here until the end of my days.

Good luck to the grads of 2015 and go team yellow!

I'd like to say thanks to my parents, for allowing me to attend a school, which has instilled the qualities that have made me who I am. This is not just a school; it's a part of who we are as people. There's a sense of brotherhood at RSGC, one that can only be understood by the people who have had the fortune of attending this great place. It's sad to leave, to close a chapter of your life that means so much, but it's always nice to finish on a high note. Attending RSGC was the opportunity of a lifetime, and I'd like to personally thank Mr. D'Arcy, Dr. Lambersky, Dr. Leatch Mr. Farrar, and Mr. Castator, who have all been great teachers/stand-up comedians over the past few years.

I can't sum up everything up in a grad quote. I am leaving this place a very different and much happier person than when I first arrived. I owe much of that happiness to the incredible teachers that have been my guides on this adventure. A special thanks to those in the English, History and, Drama departments as well as Mr. Hutton. I cannot thank you enough for everything you have taught me over the last four years. It is teachers like you that make this place worth coming back to day after day.

The story of my time at RSGC has reached it's happy end. Now I am ready to turn the page and start the next chapter.

Head Perfect Graduation Address

Good evening Mr. Beatty, Mr. O'Leary, faculty, staff, family, friends, and fellow classmates. Thank you for coming here today to celebrate the great year we've had and the end of our time at Royal St. George's College. As I stand before you today, on behalf of the graduating class of 2015, I can tell you that we are a close, caring group of guys; much like a family. Just like a family, we argue, have disagreements and at times clash, but what makes our grade special, is that when someone is down and needs a hand up, no matter who it is, he's got 78 friends there to help him up. There have been times this year when things have happened that would divide most grades, but instead ours seems to become even closer. This level of maturity and care for one another has not come overnight, but rather developed over our tenure at the college. Let me take you back to the start of grade 9 where our high school journey began.

As most of you know the first week of school is spent at camp. I still remember being mesmerized by JC's amazing dance moves, and being impressed by Max who was the first to learn everyone's names. I remember gym class where we created the perfect football play for Michael Donolo. It was called the sleepy D. I also remember Farbridge and Gunter grinding through cross-country season. From grade 10, I remember the dog sledding trip. A meme of Chris Kitchen went around after that; "allergic to dogs, goes dog sledding". I also remember Michael Miller's 3-second judo take down and Luke Fenton's outstanding skateboarding film production. From grade 11, I remember summer biology with Brendan and Ford. Perhaps some of my fondest memories come from BC that year. I remember John Carney performing his Irish dance routine for us around the campfire. I also remember singing Great St. George around the campfire too. I was beside Chris Jones, who had only been at the school for a year, but he already knew all the words and was singing loud and proud with the rest of us. Now grade 12 was a special year full of so many memories. From Halloween where Brennan Chui made an elaborate set of wings for his costume; to semi where I remember Andrew Kim crowd surfing; to Sam Cook and Rostyk's precision and realism in the execution of our grad prank. There was Will Blanco's "discussion" with Appleby's basketball team, Simon Taylor's skill in leading team 'Choice' to ball hockey glory and Pearce's beast mode on the rugby field. Some memories have been made over several years, like Anagnoson and Wassermann's passion for Survivor and discussions with Mme. DeBlois or Genua's and Greg's intense chess matches. And who can forget Connor Gallagher's Switzerland promposal. We've made and shared so many memories over the years I know we will all take time to reminisce about them some time in the near future.

Not only are we taking all these memories with us but other things too. There are many things the RSGC community has taught us. Some important phrases come to mind when thinking about this subject. "Right time, right place" often spoken by Mr. Fitzpatrick, or the more general "Manners Maketh Men" which is so fundamental to the school. Another phrase was coined this year by Leo and Brandon, with slightly less significance but will be remembered nonetheless; "She need" is meant to replace I need in the same weird way the expression 'sick' is now often a good thing. I've also learned, that if you can command the English language as well as Samson, you can control a room, even a courtroom where the teachers are on trial. If you work hard you will see results as evidenced by Gladly and Ruairidh's gym work ethic. And I've learned you can always create change if you want to; like Graydon changing baseball club into baseball team. I've learned from Zac, that no one is ever too young to hangout with as he often eats lunch with the grade threes, I've learned from Evan how to persevere as he dug deep during rugby season and pushed through an injury, and I've learned from Ross how to fulfill all your leadership duties as he so brilliantly did as one of the ball hockey commissioners this year. We are taking with us the fact that we can't craft a witty Facebook comment like Michael Tuns, swim as fast as Mack or ball as hard as Tepsich and MJ but we can try to be as passionate as Otis, as big hearted as Norm and as well rounded as Turner. The school has instilled in us the core values of what it is to be a man and how to succeed in life. We know we will always have a home in RSGC and a family in one another.

Unfortunately we have to leave some things behind as well. We are leaving behind Chuck's 3rd period spare stories in Ketchum; my favourites always included Myles aka Air Myles. We are leaving behind grade 12 intramural soccer domination on the turf. I still want to see Jackson, Matviy and Cam Jan vs Ethan, Miilo and Alessandro. That would be a game for the ages. We are leaving behind Nic's brilliant acting, Roger's superb film making and Robbie's outstanding Spanish skills. We are leaving behind the blue blazer and 8:15 start. Unfortunately Peter, we are leaving behind the ability to be barefoot in the chemistry lab and Joe the quick Starbucks runs between classes. We are leaving behind the hilarious conversations Donnelly has with Eric Dong in Mandarin. I know this saddens us the most; we are leaving behind book club, thank you Jack for your devoted service.

We've had such a great time at the school we need to thank some people for their involvement in this process. On behalf of the graduating class I would like to thank: Lisi, Hillyer, Mattay, and Lund for convincing their parents to have us over at one point in the year; Mr. O'Leary for helping each of us achieve everything that we wanted to achieve; Stu for coming back because we missed you when you were gone; all the teachers for supporting us and giving up your own time to make our time here better; Mr. Beatty for helping to make us the best version of ourselves; our parents for supporting us through this journey and always being here when we needed them; and lastly, thank you to all the grads for making this year unforgettable.

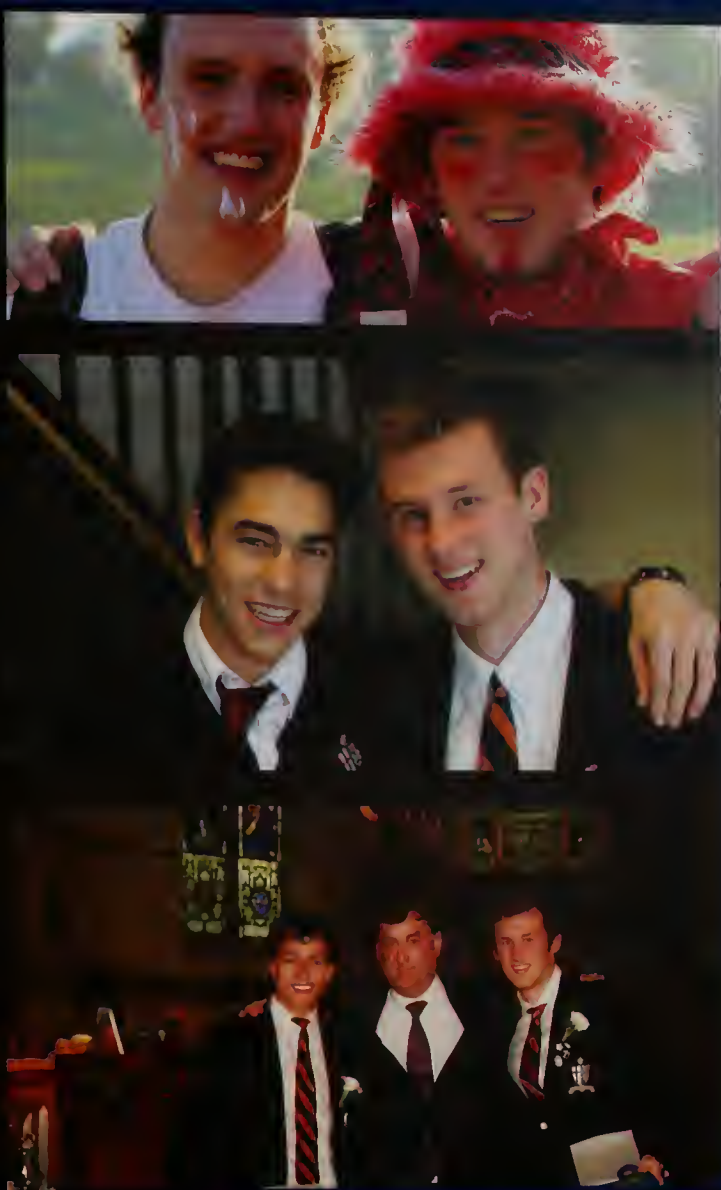

As we look into the future there's a lot that's undecided but there are a few things I know for certain. I know Stevie will look like Santa next Christmas, I know Seb will still be a master of everything, I know Nuke will have a few hundred new nicknames, I know Donnelly will still want to come to a party at Luder's. I know we will still be known as the most respectful gentlemen around and we will continue to watch out for one another. I know Josh's taste in music will remain top notch, Ata's dance moves will remain unbeatable and Conall's love for cars will be undisputed. I know the Jeep crew of Tommy, Firstbrook and Barnes will still be cruising around making us all jealous. I know Spears will always be the tallest person in the room. I know Mariano will still be importing parts from China, and Hova and Watts will still be champs. I know Nevin will still be commenting on every post in the class of 2015. I know Thor will be Thor next Halloween, Robert will still be asking questions and Trusler will still be wearing his speedo. With this amazing group of guys I know you will all do great things in the future. We have a special, talented group of young men here ready to take on the world.

The last person I want to mention in my speech is also the first person I met at the school. Anthony you've been a great friend and outstanding Georgian. Gents this is it. We are done high school. Remember what we've created as a grade, this community of care and respect for one another. Remember everything the school has taught us and what we've learned from one another. Be thankful for everyone who supports us and go into the future ready to embrace change and make change.

Thank You.

Lachlan Devir, Head Prefect 2014-2015
